

The Three Second Rule

When creating exhibition or window displays, remember the three-second rule. You must let potential customers know who you are, what you do and one benefit of your product or service and you only have three seconds to capture their imagination.

Showing Off Ltd
Marketing Consultancy and Exhibition Training